CHARLOTTE ST. MARTIN

President, The Broadway League

Charlotte St. Martin is President of The Broadway League, having joined the organization in 2006. The Broadway League is the trade association representing commercial theatre in the United States and around the world. The 700+ member national trade association for the Broadway industry includes producers, theatre owners, and presenters of Broadway across the country.

During her tenure at The Broadway League, Ms. St. Martin has successfully managed various challenges affecting the industry including labor strikes, economic downturns, and government issues. Under her tenure, the League has created numerous new development and educational programs. In addition to her role in presenting the annual Tony Awards® with the American Theatre Wing, the League manages the National High School Musical Theatre Awards.

Ms. St. Martin's expertise as one of the highest-ranking women in the hospitality industry serves her well. She spent nearly three decades with Loews Hotels, where she held a variety of positions including Executive Vice President of Operations and Marketing, and President and CEO of Loews Anatole Hotel. She served as Chair of the New York Society of Association Executives and also served as Chair of both Meeting Planners International and the Professional Convention Management Association Foundations. Most recently, she was named to Crain's Business New York Magazine's 2019 Hall of Fame.

Ms. St. Martin currently serves on the Executive Committees of several nonprofit organizations including NYC & Co. and the Times Square Alliance. She also serves on the Boards of The Actors Fund and Broadway Cares/Equity Fights AIDS.
